

WAS OVERCOME BY THE FUMES OF DYNAMITE

Ernest Ingram, a Well-Digger, Loses His Life at Tofield

RESCUER BROUGHT TO SURFACE UNCONSCIOUS

Rope Attached to Victim's Foot Brought Up Only His Rubber Boot

Tofield, Alta., May 21.—Ernest Ingram, a young life was snuffed out yesterday afternoon by poisonous fumes of exploded dynamite at the bottom of a well which he had assisted in boring, and into which he had been lowered to lower the rock which had been blasted with dynamite. Not only was he overcome by the fumes from the dynamite, but a cave-in occurred which all but buried him.

An assistant, Nick Swinton, was let down into the well to try to get a rope around Ingram's body. He succeeded in attaching it to the right foot which protruded above the earth. A truck covering the rock was then lowered, and the rescuer was immediately overcome by the deadly fumes and was hauled to the surface in an unconscious condition. It was not until several hours later that the victim was recovered.

The rope which had been attached to Ingram's foot brought to the surface only the big rubber boot to which the victim had been fastened. A physician who was at the scene of the accident refused to permit any other man to go down into the well until the dynamite fumes had sufficiently cleared away. The next volunteer to offer to go down was a young man named Philip Galloway, a young House Creek farmer. At the risk of his life he further carried down the rope in fastening a rope around Ingram's body, which, upon being raised, was found still fast to the victim's foot. The rescue was made to the surface after an hour's unrelenting work, life was pronounced extinct.

SENATE WILL NOT PASS THE NAVAL BILL

Meeting of Liberal Senators Held to Consider Attitude on the Bill

WILL ATTACK TORY AMENDMENT TO BILL

Government Must Submit Naval Question to the People of Canada

Ottawa, May 21.—A meeting of the Liberal senators was held this morning to consider the attitude of the party on the naval bill, which will come up for second reading soon. The meeting was very quiet as the issue was not so much a matter of principle as it was of the government's attitude on the bill.

In all probability they will add to the bill the amendment which the Conservatives in the upper house endeavored to attach to the Laurier naval service bill.

This was an amendment declaring that the money it was supposed to expend should not be spent until the matter had been referred to the people. The amendment would suggest the possibility of an early general election.

It is a matter of fact, it is now proposed that the government will not proceed with the bill until it has been referred to the people.

The train, consisting of a passenger coach, a baggage car, with the engine and tender was derailed, but no one was hurt, and the damage to the train was slight. The derauling was caused by a spread rail.

W. F. MACLEAN ADVISES A CUT IN THE TARIFF

Conservative Member for South York Wants Tariff Burden Lightened

PORTION OF SURPLUS
SHOULD BE USED

No Reason for Government Declining to Remedy High Cost of Living

Ottawa, May 21.—Col. Sam Hughes submitted to minister of finance a question put by Mr. M. Macdonald (Edmonton), in the House of Commons last morning, concerning the resignation of Gen. Colin MacKenzie. His aid of two perfecting his duties in a satisfactory manner and that the announcement of his resignation came as a surprise. Later than consuming the resignation, Col. Hughes made no statement. He said the newspaper stories were exaggerated and if Mr.
Macdonald would put the question on the order paper he would answer it.
Dr. Clarke (Edmonton), said that the minister was quite within his rights to take his time and answer the question in his own way.

Mailway Legislation Next Week.
Premier Huron stated that the railway legislation would be brought down at the end of this week or the beginning of next week. This will be the subject for the C.N.R. and any others that are discussed upon the premier's coming to the House.
The premier said that the railway legislation would be discussed, and would be introduced. This included a bill affecting the liability of municipalities for the payment of rates out by the C.N.R. and any others that are discussed upon the premier's coming to the House. The premier said that the railway legislation introduced. This included a bill affecting the liability of municipalities for the payment of rates

out by the C.N.R. and any others coming to the House.

Increase Penitentiary Staff.
The minister of justice and his bill to introduce. One provides for an increased staff at the penitentiaries, the other, amends the judges' act.
In view of the present legislation, the Postmaster-General, and a most regarding salaries of letter carriers.
There might also be an act for the re-organization of some departments.
W. F. MacLean, (South York) gave notice that he will move a resolution that the capitalization of the C.P.R. in future should be increased only by parliamentary resolution and not by order-in-council or by resolution of the board of directors of the C.P.R.

Is It Fair to the Crown?
Continuing Mr. MacLean's argument that in view of the large surplus of $3,400,000 the government should have done something to reduce the present burden of tariff taxation. "No good reason is left," he said, "for the government declining to remedy the burden of tariff taxation upon the people in view of the rapid and abnormal increase in the cost of living." He had just concluded his speech.

SAYS CANADA IS GOOD PLACE FOR SCOTCHMEN

Managing Director of Scottish Distilling Says Immigration to This Country Is Paying Men From Old Country Industries

That Canada is taking a great many of Scotland's best men and that she is beginning to feel the drain upon her manhood very seriously, is the statement made by Mr. A. Johnston, managing director for the Aick, Fraser Co., one of the oldest Scotch distilleries, who is in the city today. Mr. Fraser is the eldest of eleven brothers, seven of whom are settled residents on this side of the Atlantic. He himself came out to Canada last year with the intention of visiting his brothers and found so much business that he is making a passing business trip this occasion and intends to appoint a Canadian representative to look after the business of the firm in Canada.

Every boat leaving Scotland is packed with immigrants, says Mr.
Johnston, and Canada has her agents all through the country. The greatest factor in the ever-growing stream of immigration is the prosperity in this country of people who have immigrated in recent years, and who are sending home each growing account of the country that their friends are anxious to follow. The continued immigration is taking men from the Scottish industries. Mr.
Johnston said that no less than five of the oldest and most reliable employees of the firm which he represented were leaving for Canada during the present month. Every other industry is feeling the same drain.

The trouble is that it is our best and steadiest men who go," said Mr.
Johnston. "It used to be that a man could not make good at home he was sent out to Canada, but now that it is all changed and the men make good at home are those who think they can do better out there." Mr. Johnston is quite satisfied that Canada is a good place for Scotchmen and since coming out this time he has seen a large number of Scotchmen who are doing very well here.
